WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, Sept. 9th, 1905.

Editor Press:—

There are numerous indications that the railroeds of the country are preparing to offer the private car lines now doing business to their lines as a sacrifice to the President's demand for railway rate legislation at the next session of Congress and if that is rejected as insufficient to defy the President and trust to the powerful influance of their lobby in Washington and to the voters of the members of Congress whom they own, body and soul, to prevent the enactment of any legislation which would not prove to their liking. While this impression was gained some time ago, both from talking with prominent railroad men in Washington and from the character of the testimony presented before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce, but it has received strong confirmation from the tenor of the replies of the railroads to the questions addressed to them by the Interstate Commerce Commission on the subject of private refrigerator car lines.

Thus far four important railroads have signified in writing their determination to make further contracts with the private car companies and to conduct their own refrigerated freight system. These are the Michigan Central, the Pere Marquette, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the Illinois Central railways, all of whose lines have proved especially profitable fields to the rapacious private car companies. While these are the only lines which have thus signified their intention, there are numerous others which have given indications of a similar purpose and there is ground for the belief that the campaign instituted by President Roosevelt will at least serve to relieve shippers from the extortion of the private car companies and to remove from the difficult railway equation this important factor in the creation and maintenance of trusts.

A Marvelous Enterprise.

Every day the expression is heard, "It is marvelous how a Sunday newspaper can give to its readers free of charge such a beautiful color magazine as is given with The Philadelphia Sunday Press."

This magazine is equal to any ten cent magazine and is given absolutely free with The Sunday Press, a Sunday newspaper which costs only five cents per copy. The Sunday Press also has two other beautiful color magazines, consisting of a Women's Magazine, which is unexcelled, and a Comic Magazine, equal to the best.

Such wonderful and valuable parts of a Sunday newspaper which is ably edited throughout, constantly add thousands of copies to the circulation of The Philadelphia Press. Do you read it? If not, notify your newsdeal er at once to begin serving you with this newspaper. 28 4t.

Won Easily.

James Wright who is a sprinter of no mean ability, on a wager for a hundred and fifty yard run, beat James Heavilland's horse about 75 yards and could have covered the distance of a mile in plenty of time if necessary. The race took place last Saturday evening about ten o'clock, between the bank and Chestnut street. James, you will have to get something considerable faster before entering this kind of sport.

The County Sunday School Convention.

The annual convention of the Sunday School Association of Cameron County was held in the parish house of Emmanuel Church on Thursday and Friday of last week. It proved to be one of the best gatherings of the kind yet held in the county in point of attendance and interst. Delegates representing all parts of the county were present. The state organization was represented by Miss Ermina C. Lincoln, of Philadelphia, whose helpful addresses were a notable feature of the convention. Local speakers were Professor E. S. Ling, President of the County Association; the County Superintendent of Education, Miss Mattie M. Collins; Messrs. Josiah Howard and I. K. Hockley, the Rev. Mr. Dow, of Rich Valley and the Rev. J. M. Robertson. Many helpful and stimulating points were also brought out in the open discussions.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Professor E. S. Ling; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Laura A. Smith, of Sterling Run; Executive Committee, Messrs. Josiah Howard, J. O. Brookbank and the Rev. Robert McCaslin; Secretary of the Cradle Roll Department, Miss Bessie McCaslin; Secretary of the Home Department, Miss Mary Robinson; Secretary of the Teachers' Training Department, Mrs. Dankle.

The Rev. Robert McCaslin was chosen as delegate to represent the county at the coming State convention in Philadelphia, October 11-13. The secretary was also authorized to furnish credentials as delegates to any other Sunday school workers in the county who may be able to attend the state convention.

The Secretary's report shows 19 Sunday schools in the county, fifteen of which are open all the year. There are 169 officers and teachers and 1267 scholars. This makes including 77 enrolled in the cradle department, a total enrollment of 1513.

For the Housewife.

In housekeeping liberality is often the best economy, particularly at the beginning of Winter, when the wise expenditure of a considerable sum on the season's food supply may mean the saving of many a dollar. Some practical advice in this direction is given by Isabel Gordon Curtis in the October Delineator, which contains many features of housewifely interest. "Hallowe'en Party Novelties," illustrating delicacies for Hallowe'en refreshment and entertainment, is a seasonable item, and other culinary topics are "Serving Game Dishes," "Celery Novelties," "Home Made and Whole-Wheat Bread." and "A Rice Ronudelay." In addition, Mary Taylor-Ross has some helpful notes on "Little Things on Housekeeping."

A Woman's Luck.

She was picking her way along the muddy sidewalk trying to protect her hat with an umbrella and and lift her skirts above the mud. Suddenly she bent over. Her shirt swept the sidewalk, the rain drops struck fair and square on her hat and a pedestrian coming from the opposite direction bumped into and nearly paralyzed her umbrella. But she picked up the pin and presumably had good luck the rest of the day.

Automobile Trip.

A party of Emporiumites enjoyed an automobile ride to Coudersport last Sunday to visit friends. The parties consisted of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Judd, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Metzger, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Andrews, Mrs. Lizzie Hinkle, and Mrs. J. D. Logan, E J. Smith and F. F. Hiillker had charge of the party and carefully managed their cars, returning the party safely home.

Who Can Do it?

It is reported that the Democratic machine has discovered that the officers of their late convention have no authority to fill the vacancy on their ticket, that of Sheriff, owing to the fact that the officers died when the convention adjourned. The question now confronts them: Who has the authority to fill the vacancy.

"THE NATIONAL FLOWER"

A Pleasing and Successful Performance by Home Talent.

On last Friday and Saturday evenings large audiences in the opera house listened with keen delight to the comic operetta, "The National Flower," rendered by home talent under the direction of Mr. John Sinclair, of Ridgway. The operetta was given under the auspices of the Sewing Society of Emmanuel church for the benefit of the pipe organ fund. It was the universal verdict of all who heard the operetta that no more pleasing entertainment by home talent has ever been given in Emporium, a tribute at once to the attractive qualities of the operetta itself, to the energy and enthusiasm of the director, and to the talent of the performers. Of the latter Emporium has just ground to feel proud.

This operetta, by the well known composer, Miss Carry B. Adams, is in its general idea an adaptation of Sullivan's "Trial by Jury," and some of the airs are taken directly or arranged from Sullivan. Various flowers represented by classes and soloists, present their claims for recognition as the National Flower before a judge and jury of "new" women. The jury being unable to agree, Uncle Sam hesitatingly volunteer to name a candidate which will prove thoroughly acceptable to all classes, sections and ages. His offer is accepted, and so a highly amusing climax, or anti-climax, crowns the performance.

It would be impossible, within the limits of our space, to give detailed mention of all the several elements of the performance so creditably rendered by all. It is difficult to believe that the roles of Judge and bailiff have ever been so well rendered as they were by Miss Anna Metzger and Mr. A D. Ericsson. The solo singing of Misses Walker, McCaslin and Taggart and Mrs. S. E. Murry was heartily appreciated, as were also the performances of the young men representing the parts of Unale Sam, the lawyers, the sun flower, onion, oak and thistle. From a spectacular point of view the performance was excellent, the swing scene being especially beautiful.

Elevated Car Falls to Street.

A terrible accident occurred last Monday in New York City, an elevated R. R., a car loaded with early morning workers on their way down town, pitched headlong into the street. Twelve persons were killed and scores injured.

Elmer Hart Arrested.

Railroad officer Seth Conover, of Buffalo, N. Y., Sheriff Hemphill, of Emporium, and Officer Steele, of Olean, N. Y., arrested Elmer Hart at Cameron, early Monday morning, Sept 11th. Hart, a young man named Dewling, nearly murdered a railroad man in Salamanca yard last spring. Hart is now in Emporium jail, awaiting extradition papers from New York State. Sheriff Hemphill made the arrest.

A Sensational Elopement at Cameron.

Miss Alice Stewart, aged 17 years, of Cameron, eloped with a young man named William Dryburg, Friday night, September 8th and no trace of them has been found. The officers of the county have all been notified but up to this time their search has been fruitless. No one saw the couple or the direction they took. It appears that they quietly left her home, where Dryburg had been boarding. They left in the night while the other people were sleeping.

Child Takes Poison.

Tuesday afternoon a four year old child of Ed. Ritter, one the foremen in Howard Co's saw mill, drank about two teaspoonfuls of laudanum, and then brought the bottle to his mother and told her of it. Dr. Heilman was summoned by phone and promptly emptied the child's stomach and washed it out with the pump and then administered the usual antidote. In a short time the child recovered from its drowsiness and was again all right.

Regarding Vaccination.

Editor Press:—

In view of the fact that the State Health authorities are urging the enforcement of the law regarding vaccination and that there are some heads of families in our own community opposed to vaccination, it might be wise to publish the fact of the results of State Veterinarian, Leonard Pearson, M.D., investigations concerning smallpox. After carefully studying the mortality [illegible] both in this country and abroad, he found that of all the deaths from all causes, prior to vaccination, over 50 per cent. were from smallpox, and that since vaccination had become general that this relation was less than one per cent It might be well to also publish the following: "Vaccination creed." The department of health, after years of experience with small-pox and vaccination hereby declares:

"First—That true vaccination—repeated until it no longer takes,—always prevents small-pox. Nothing else does.

"Second—That true vaccination—that is vaccination properly done on a clean arm with pure lymph and kept perfectly clean and unbroken afterwards—never did and never will make a serious sore.

"Third—That such a vaccination leaves a characteristic scar, unlike that from any other cause, which is recognizable during life and is the only conclusive evidence of a successful vaccination.

"Fourth—That no untoward results ever follow such vaccination; on the other hand, thousands of lives are annually sacrificed through the neglect to vaccinate—a neglect begotten of lack of knowledge."

ARTHUR R. REYNOLDS, M. D.,
Commissioner of Health, City of Chicago.
HERMAN SPALDING, M. D.,
Chief Medical Inspector, Department of Health, Chicago.
Approved, March 23, 1903.
BENJAMIN LEE, M. D.,
Secretary Pennsylvania State Board of Health.

In view of such evidence as this it seems that alt opposition among intelligent people to accepting this, the only preventative of one of the most dreaded of all diseares, shou?d disappear, and be welcomed as a most signal blessing.

Respectfully submitted,
R. P. HEILMAN, M. D.

Valuable Horse Drowned.

Yesterday afternoon while Anson W. Lewis was hauling a reaping machine to his farm on Rich Valley his horses shied while crossing the bridge near A. C. Goodwin's, throwing the horses into the creek. The water being six feet deep, the horses becoming entangled in the harness, one of them was drowned before help arrived to assist Mr. Lewis. The horse was a valuable one, the owner having refused $400 for the team a short time ago.

Although our Sheriff is in feeble health he had the sand to walk into the house and arrest the man Hart, who is wanted for a murderous assault at Salamanca, N. Y., some months ago. The PRESS contained the account in full at the time.

Boys Beware.

Sometime Wednesday evening after dark, a basket of bananas and a basket of cantaloupes, was taken from the front of my place of buisness and contents removed at the rear of building. Altogether too much of this kind of work going on and it will be well for parents to look after their children as they will surely be found out if this work is continued and examples made of them. J. H. DAY.

An Old Family Leave Us.

Mr. Almeron Chapman and family leave here on Monday for Spokane, Wash., to locate permanently—Mrs. C. and son having gone there some time ago. Emporium loses an estimable family. Mr. Chapman is a native of this county, having resided here all his life, except over two years that he served in the army. In politics he is a stalwart Republican and always to be relied upon; in church affairs consistent, and in fraternal associations energetic. Mr. Chapman has been a member of Lieut. D. W. Taggart Post No. 241 and held all the offices at various times. He is also an old and faithful member of Emporium Lodge, F. & A. M., No. 382, since 1868. His brethren at a regular session Tuesday evening made him a life member in recognition of his faithful service, at the same time extending our brother, in eloquent remarks, the well wishes of his brethren.

Seriously Injured,

Jos. Kinsley, who lives in Henry Graham's Broad street house, took a load of woodsmen to camp No. 20 on North Creek, last Sunday afternoon. While returning home in the evening he fell asleep, let the horses have the road and enjoyed his sleep until a passer by awakened him. This frightened the horses and they ran away, crashing the rig against a telegraph pole. Kinsley was thrown out with great force to the ground, rendering him unconscious for several hours after being brought to his home. He has been in a very critical condition but at this writing is slowly improving. The unfortunate man is in the employ of John W. Norris.

No other American young lady of this generation is having so much desirable, varied and delightful experience as befalls the popular elder daughter of the president of the United States. Miss Alice Roosevelt has taken many interesting trips in her own land, but it is doubtful if all these put together have furnished her such a wealth of change and pleasurable novelty as has the journey she is taking with Secretary Taft and party to the Philippine islands.

So far as our navy is concerned, our chief enemies seem to be not without, but within, in the shape of high explosives and new devices in war enginery. The number of killed and wounded in the Bennington explosion alone comes well up toward the total of our fatalities in battle on land and sea during the whole course of the Spanish-American war; and the Bennington disaster, while the worst, was only one of not less than two score of similar mishaps which have occurred in our navy since the blowing up of the Maine.

Australia has a large and rich gem-producing area, and from the United States come the most magnificent opals yet found; and here also are found rare specimens of the yellow and green sapphires, and also quantities of the little-known stones, spinelle, olivine and zircons. The beach sands of New South Wales contain myriads of minute crystal zircons of fine lustre. Hyacinths and jargons are well known, being pale red, crimson, brown and a fine, clear green. Opals are found in abundance in New South Wales and Queensland.

Among the largest and most complete chimes in the United States is the one hanging in the bell tower of Holy Trinity church, Philadelphia. Most chimes are made up of from eight to a dozen bells. The one at Holy Trinity, however, is composed of no less than 25 of the bronze-throated musical instruments. These are hung upon horizontal bars located one above the other, the first holding seven, the next five, the next seven, and the next three, while three others, two large and one small one, swing from an independent frame situated higher up.

The countries of South America are particularly rich in precious stones of all kinds, Brazil leading all other lands in the variety of these rare and beautiful products. Amethysts and topazes are found in great quantities in the interior of Brazil, and are marketed chiefly in Germany. Diamonds, beryls, chrysoberyls, chrysolites, tourmalins, topazes (rose-colored), amethysts and garnets are mined in the section of Brazil tributary to Rio de Janeiro. Agates and amethysts are gathered from the surface at various points of Rio Grande do Sul, in southern Brazil.

Two Sioux City electricians seem to have found a way to talk around the world. By the use of an invention just patented by them it will apparently be as easy for Americans to converse with their neighbors in Europe as it has been to talk 10 blocks across a city. Only girdle the world with wire, these men declare, and they will make it possible for the Swiss maiden in her Alpine home to flirt in the morning with young men on Florida plantations, and it will be mere child's play for the Iowan to order cattle from Patagonia over the telephone.

For the first time in the history of the national banks, their note circulation now exceeds $500,000,000, the aggregate outstanding at the end of July being returned at $503,000,000. This is an increase of 110 per cent. in a little less than seven years; $46,000,000 has been added to the circulation in the last nine months alone. But it must be borne in mind that simultaneously with this increase in bank note circulation the banking resources of the country have practically doubled, and the population has increased nearly 10,000,000.

There is a demand among the foreign population in China for medium to good grades of pictures for wall decorations, and cheap but artistic creations now so common in the United States would find their way into a good many Chinese homes. There is a splendid field there at the present time for pumps of many grades and for well-boring machinery. This demand is urgent, and would assume immense proportions if given an impetus from the United States. The purchasing power of the Chinese people is increasing rapidly.

ENCOURAGING DEMOCRATS.

Bryan's Effort to Pump Wind Into the Airship of the Democracy.

The Post copies the caption of an editorial in the Commoner, in which Mr. Bryan, in a spirit that throws Mark Tapley off his pedestal, attempts to fill the democratic mind with firm confidence and cheerful hope—confidence that the democratic party has been making excellent progress for some time past; hope that the goal, the honor and the fact of victory, will soon be attained. Mr. Bryan, says the Washington Post, starts out with the remark that "if any democrat is disposed to take a gloomy view of the future, let him find encouragement in a review of the last few years."

"The last few years?" Twelve years are but a few; let any gloomy minded democrat, yearning for tender buds of promise, look back 12 years to 1893, when his party came into full control of the government for the first and, alas, the only time since the beginning of Buchanan's administration—came in "on all fours," as the result of a splendid triumph in 1892. Let that anxious democrat recall the pride and joy with which he and his political brethren contemplated that historic return to power, and then let him trace, step by step, the fortunes of his party to this day and date. Will the seeker for good cheer "find encouragement in a review" of his party's defeats in the congressional elections of 1894, 1896, 1898, 1900, 1902 and 1904, the latest the most overwhelming of the series of six successive disasters? Will a review of the presidential elections of 1896, 1900 and 1904, the latest an avalanche, afford any real satisfaction to the suffering soul of the seeker for signs of coming victories?

Mr. Bryan is not plenarily responsible for all the woes that have come to the democratic party since 1892, but it is a suggestive coincidence that the era of democratic decadence has been contemporaneous with his leadership. And there is not an iota of encouragement, there is nothing brighter than despair, in the fact that Mr. Bryan is apparently determined to continue his rule or ruin tactics.

WELL ENOUGH WILL DO US

Tariff Tinkering at the Present Time Would Be Worse Than Folly.

The prospect before the American people for three years to come is one of exuberant prosperity. All signs from agriculture, industry, trade and finance are for such a period of plenty as will surpass even the McKinley years, says the Chicago Inter Ocean.

Aside from such a series of crop failures as this country has never known, only one thing can check the golden flood. That is, tinkering with everything that is, merely because it is not just what many of us would like to have it.

The Dingley tariff is not perfect. Many of its rates are irrationally high. But any thorough revision of it would check prosperity.

Predatory trusts should not be permitted to go uncurbed, nor the secret railway rebate be tolerated. But to check these evils it is not necessary to blow up the foundations of industry and transportation. To do so would check prosperity.

People support that government and that party best under which the average man prospers best. And they repudiate parties and turn from governments under which the average man does not prosper. This may not be a lovely trait of human nature, but it is there and must be reckoned with.

Now that congress is about to meet, the republican party and its responsible leaders should reflect upon these facts and send to the rear those who explode with epoch-making changes every five minutes.

The word of the hour is, "Let well enough alone—let well enough alone!"

Principle Violated.

When the attempt is made to apply the principle of reciprocity to international trade in a country where the protective system is established, it is at once found that if the attempt is to be successful some domestic interest must be subordinated or sacrificed to the attainment of the end in view. Some American producer must be deprived of at least a part of the protection which he is now receiving in order to enlarge the opportunity of his German competitor. This is not only an individual hardship, but it is a violation of the principle upon which protection rests and by which alone it can be justified, the principle that is for all alike, that it must be for all or none, and herein consists the crux of the reciprocity problem. It seems to be for the greater benefit of the country that it should uphold the protective principle in its integrity, for the abandonment of a single interest would threaten the whole position.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

FREE TRADE TO BE BOOMED

Agitation of Competitive Reciprocity Would Help the Democratic Party.

The republican policy is closely defined in the national platforms of the party, the legislation of republican congresses and the utterances of Presidents Harrison, McKinley and Roosevelt and other leaders of the party. That policy, says the Burlington Hawkeye, is fundamentally rooted upon the doctrine of protection. Reciprocity is an adjunct which is available whereever in practice it does not vitiate or clash with protection. Republican reciprocity contemplates free trade in non-competitive products of field, factory, mine and forest. It would not harm American industries.

Democratic reciprocity reverses the principle. It contemplates free trade in products and merchandise that would compete with like articles produced in the United States. That is why democrats are so strongly in sympathy with the Chicago gathering. The more effectually to cloak the ulterior purposes of the promoters, a strong effort is making to impress the public with the belief that it is wholly republican in origin. Upon this point the St. Louis Globe-Democrat (Rep.) says:

"There are excellent reasons for thinking otherwise, and some of these may be unintentionally illuminated in the course of the proceedings. Quite a number of democratic leaders have been injudicious enough to let their zeal run away with their discretion, and to put them on record as heartily approving the movement and declared purposes. The democratic press has been even less discreet, and the congress is sure to find plenty of exploitation in their columns, with commendation of everything it proposes doing."

The Globe-Democrat brings out a list of political history to which the Hawkeye on several occasions has referred and which it is well to recall at this juncture:

"One of the most unfortunate things for the country in recent years was the attitude of Mr. Blaine toward the McKinley law while that measure was in process of formulation in the committees and in the two houses of congress. Mr. Blaine was continuously insisting upon the incorporation of reciprocity treaties as a part of the tariff policy of the Republican party, and on more than one occasion he carried his enthusiasm to the point of denouncing the lines on which the McKinley bill was then being framed. The result of such an attitude of such a leader was that the McKinley law became operative under a cloud, if not actually discredited, in the estimation of thousands of republicans, and at the first election following its operation the democratic party acquired such momentum that Cleveland, two years later, swept the country.

"It is now 12 years since the country began reaping the first bitter fruits of that folly. But it is little more than half that time since when, having turned back to McKinley and his policies, we began to gather again the fruits of wisdom. Seven years is hardly a sufficient length of time for us to forget the lesson we then learned and return to the old and discredited cry which was the first cause of our misfortunes. Only the leaders of the democratic party can profit from a renewal of reciprocity agitation. And unless the colored brother is very skillfully concealed in the woodpile, some of them are likely to be discovered in the background of the Chicago Reciprocity convention, along with the beef trust and other trusts which are promoting it."

OPINIONS AND POINTERS.

☞The results of the elections of this year, if republicans are not overconfident, will make the democratic party, in next year's campaigning, look so much like a reminiscence that it will have to become one to save its face.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

☞Six years ago American manufacturers made but 45 automobiles, valued at $60,000. Last year they built 26,601 machines, valued at $40,000,000, and in two years from now the value of the output will probably exceed $100,000,000. The export trade is increasing rapidly and is already assuming large proportions. Here is another indication of prosperity made possible by our present tariff. A good tariff to leave alone.—American Economist.

☞Gov. Cummins stirred up the wrong man when he charged Secretary of the Treasury Shaw with having spoken without knowledge and improperly of one of the proposed treaties of reciprocity. Secretary Shaw reciprocates in a clear and forcible letter, in which he denies the accuracy of Gov. Cummins' deliberate charge and demands to know the source of the governor's misinformation. Evidently Secretary Shaw believes that reciprocity which alleges that it is founded on the protective principle should protect repulations.—Troy Times.

☞The tariff will not be touched. The deficits will be abolished without altering any of the customs schedules, and the country can go right on with its business expansion without any dread that congress will call a halt on it by any experimental legislation.—Burlington (N. J.) Enterprise.

RIOTERS ARE IN CONTROL

SITUATION IN THE OIL FIELDS AT BAKU, RUSSIA, IS DESPERATE, AND GROWING WORSE.

THE SOLDIERS ARE POWERLESS

Fire Adds to the Horror of the Scene and Half of the Plants in the Oil Fields Have Been Burned —Troops Are Using Artillery.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 7.—The news from Baku is of the gloomiest character. The Armenian and Tartar warring factions now appear to be entirely beyond control. The streets of Baku seem to be unsafe for the inhabitants and the force of troops to be inadequate to restrain the anarchial tendencies of the combatants in the surrounding region.

According to reliable reports the troops have been forced to withdraw from the suburb of Balakhan, where on Tuesday the rioters set fire to the oil works, and that place is now in the hands of the Tartars, who have completed the work of destruction and massacred the inhabitants who did not accompany the troops in their retirement.

Baku, Caucasia, Sept. 8.—The situation here shows no signs of amelioration. It could hardly be worse. The terror-stricken inhabitants are fleeing from the city, knowing that the garrison is utterly inadequate to protect them.

The principal fighting is not in Baku itself, but at Balakhan, where hundreds have been shot by the infantry and artillery and where 1,000 were killed or wounded during a desperate attack on the military camp and provision depots. The troops sustained few casualties.

A large number of workmen barricaded themselves in the Balakhan hospital. The soldiers began the attack with rifle fire and then stormed the hospital and completed their work with the bayonet.

The entire oil and commercial quarters of Balakhan, Sabunto and Nomani have been wiped out by fire and the inhabitants remaining behind were massacred and thrown into the flames. Bibiebat continues to burn and is threatened with the same fate as Balakhan.

The consulates, banks and administration buildings in Baku are guarded by troops. All the English residents and almost all other inhabitants of the better class have boarded ships and gone to sea to escape from danger.

G. A. R. MEN PARADE.

Fifteen Thousand Veterans in Line at Denver.

Denver, Col., Sept. 7.—The main event of the Grand Army encampment, speaking from the view-point of the rank and file, was the grand parade, which occurred Wednesday. The ovation given the marchers was unstinted. The streets were packed with people, and the windows and roofs of the buildings along the line of march swarmed with humanity.

It took the parade three hours and five minutes to pass the reviewing stand where stood the national officers of the Grand Army and distinguished guests. Col. Harper M. Orahood, chairman of the parade committee, estimated that 15,000 members of the Grand Army participated in the parade.

Kansas carried off the honors for the largest representation, having nearly 2,500 men in line. The Colorado and Wyoming department came next with 1,800 men. Illinois, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Ohio and Missouri had large delegations. Fifteen bands and more than half that number of drum corps supplied music for the marchers.

TANNER WON ON FIRST BALLOT

A FAMOUS NEW YORKER ELECTED COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF THE G. A. R.

MINNEAPOLIS GETS 1906 MEETING

Mrs. Abbie A. Adams, of Superior, Neb., Was Elected President of the Woman's Relief Corps After a Spirited Contest that Lasted Three Hours.

Denver, Sept. 9.—The 39th annual national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic yesterday elected officers as follows:

Commander-in-Chief — James Tanner, New York.

Senior Vice Commander-in-Chief—George W. Cook, Denver.

Junior Vice Commander-in-Chief—Silas H. Towler, Minneapolis.

Surgeon General—Hugo Philler, Waukesha, Wis.

Chaplain-in-Chief—Father J. B. Leary, Chapman, Kan.

Minneapolis was chosen as the meeting place for 1906.

The contest for commander-in-chief was the most interesting feature of the sessions. Besides Corporal Tanner, R. B. Brown, of Zanesville, O.; Charles Burrows, of Rutherford, N. J., and Charles G. Burton, of Nevada, Mo., were placed in nomination. Burrows' name was immediately withdrawn.

The total vote for Tanner was 447. Brown received 187, Ohio and Pennsylvania giving him their full vote and Indiana a majority of its votes. The only large delegation that voted for Burton was that of Missouri. His total strength was 42 votes.

When the adjutant general announced the result, veterans leaped from their seats, shouting and cheering and throwing their hats in the air.

In a brief speech Corporal Tanner thanked his comrades. "There is one man," he said, "whose assistance it is necessary for the old soldiers to have. There are three men in the encampment whom I will call in council in meeting President Roosevelt."

A great shout went up as Corporal Tanner indicated the person he referred to in his remark and as it died down, he said that he expected to have the counsel in all his undertakings as commander-in-chief of Senator William A. Warner, of Missouri; Gen. John C. Black, of Chicago, and Gen. Granville M. Dodge, of New York.

Mrs. Abbie A. Adams, of Superior, Neb., was elected president of the Woman's Relief Corps.

EARTHQUAKES IN ITALY.

Hundreds of People Killed and a Large Number of Villages Destroyed.

Rome, Sept. 9.—All Italy is suffering from terrible depression because of the news from the south, where one of the worst earthquakes ever experienced occurred Friday. The earthquake was felt all over Calabria and to a certain extent in Sicily. The worst news comes from Pizzo and Monteleone and from 18 villages which are said to have been completely destroyed. According to the latest news received 370 persons have been killed and a great number injured. It is as yet impossible to even estimate the property losses.

Catanzaro, Province of Calabria, Italy, Sept. 9.—A violent earthquake early Friday morning caused serious loss of life and widespread destruction in Calabria. The towns of Pizzo, Monteleone di Calabria and Martinano were almost entirely destroyed. At Monteleone di Calabria seven persons were killed and many were injured by the collapse of the prison there. The Pizzo district is said to be almost entirely destroyed.

Locally the shocks lasted 18 seconds. The walls of the hospital here collapsed and some of the patients were injured. The inhabitants of this city fled panic-stricken from their houses.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Improvement Is Shown in Nearly Every Line of Business.

New York, Sept. 9.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

Commercial news continues most satisfactory, improvement being reported in almost every case, except the further decline in prices of securities. Crops are being harvested under most favorable conditions, and a few weeks more without severe frost will put the yield of corn and cotton beyond danger. Industrial progress is accelerated by the broadening demand for iron and steel products. Textile mills and shoe factories are well occupied, while the demand for material testifies to extensive building operations.

Considering the prosperous conditions, labor struggles are exceptionally few.

Failures this week numbered 180 in the United States, against 200 last year, and 23 in Canada compared with 16 a year ago.

PEACE TREATY IS SIGNED

THE CURTAIN FALLS ON THE INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE AT PORTSMOUTH.

ALL PARTIES SEEMED SATISFIED

Baron Rosen and Baron Komura Made Short Speeches Expressing Their Mutual Satisfaction with the Outcome of Their Deliberations.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 6.—The treaty of peace between Russia and Japan was signed by the representatives of the two empires at 3:47 p. m. Tuesday. On the instant of the consummation of the great historical act, a salute was fired at the navy yard on Kittery Point.

Mr. Witte, accompanied by Baron De Rosen and Mr. Plancon, left the hotel for the navy yard at 2:30 p. m. The rain, which had been falling in torrents for half an hour previous to this time, suddenly ceased and the sun, which had not been visible for three days, shone forth.

Baron Komura, Minister Takahira and Mr. Dennison, the legal adviser of the Japanese envoys, left at 2:48 in an automobile for the navy yard.

Baron Komura had been preceded by another motor car which carried Mr. Sato and the Japanese secretaries, taking their copy of the peace treaty in a portfolio.

Both Russian and Japanese missions on their arrival at the navy yard were received at the entrance of the building by Admiral Mead, while two companies of marines rendered military honors.

The copies of the treaty of peace brought to the navy yard had been carefully compared by the secretaries of the two missions in order to avoid the necessity of reading them before the signing, at which personages extraneous to the negotiations assisted. When the secretaries had ascertained the perfect exactness of the two copies of the treaty, the plenipotentiaries and the other members of the two missions entered the conference hall accompanied by Assistant Secretary Peirce, Gov. McLane, Admiral Mead and the mayor of Portsmouth.

Mr. Witte, chief Russian plenipotentiary, was the first to sign his name to the treaty. After the ceremonies of the signing of the treaty, Baron De Rosen delivered a short speech, pointing out the importance of the event and the influence it will have in the relations between the two countries. He ended by expressing the satisfaction he felt at the good relations which have characterized the work of the plenipotentiaries. Baron Komura replied, paraphrasing Baron De Rosen's speech, and expressed his thanks for the kind words addressed to himself and the members of his mission.

The entire Russian mission, headed by Mr. Witte, attended a thanksgiving service celebrated in Christ Episcopal church by American and Russian clergymen.

OUSTED FROM OFFICE.

President Roosevelt Requests Public Printer F. W. Palmer to Resign.

Washington, Sept. 6.—Public Printer F. W. Palmer practically has been ousted from office. It was learned authoritatively last night that President Roosevelt had demanded Mr. Palmer's resignation, to take effect on the 15th inst.

The demand of the president for Mr. Palmer's resignation was due primarily to the latter's action in trying to force Oscar J. Ricketts, foreman of printing, and L. C. Hay, a foreman of a division, out of the government printing office. Mr. Palmer asked for the resignations of Ricketts and Hay on the ground that they had been insubordinate. The public printer formulated a series of charges against the two men. These charges were forwarded to Oyster Bay.

As soon as President Roosevelt learned of the situation he directed Public Printer Palmer to forward to him his resignation, to take effect in two weeks.

It has been known for some time that Mr. Palmer would not be reappointed to his present office. For several months before President Roosevelt left Washington for Oyster Bay he was casting about for a suitable man for the position of public printer. He offered it to John A. Sleicher, of New York, but he declined it, having something better in view.

The investigation made by the Keep commission into the letting of a contract for 72 Lanston typesetting machines for use in the government printing office disclosed a serious condition of affairs in the management of the office. Prominent men in the office force were divided into cliques.

The cliques were so detrimental to interests of the government that the standard of efficiency in the establishment was reduced materially.

The evidence adduced by the commission in the course of its inquiry created much bitter feeling among the men holding high positions in the office.

NEGRO WAS A HUMAN TORCH

A MOB AT WAXAHACHIE, TEX., BURNS A YOUNG COLORED MAN AT THE STAKE.

WAS TIED TO A PIECE OF GAS PIPE

The Crime for Which the Negro Paid the Death Penalty in Its Most Awful Form Was the Outraging of a Young White Woman.

Waxahachie, Tex., Sept. 8.—Steve Davis, a young negro who, it is said, confessed to outraging Mrs. S. P. Norris, 20 years of age, was last night burned at the stake by 3,500 persons. The leaders of the mob tied the negro to a piece of gas pipe that had been set in the ground, piled wood around him and set it on fire. The struggles of the negro were of short duration owing to the fierceness of the fire, which was fanned by a prairie wind.

The husband of the woman said to be wronged is said to have set the match to the tinder and started the blaze that consumed the negro. The assault occurred last Saturday and Davis was arrested Tuesday and taken before the woman, who was not sure it was he. She had been desperately ill. Yesterday the negro was again taken before the woman, who on sight of him fainted. When she revived she identified him. The negro finally confessed, it is said, detailing the crime. This is the third negro that has been burned in the state of Texas within a short time.

IS SLOWLY DECREASING.

The Pension List Is Below the Million Mark—43,000 Pensioners Died Last Year.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The pension roll reached the maximum number in its history on January 21 last, the number being 1,004,196. The roll passed the million mark in September, 1904, and gradually increased for the next four months. The decline began with the first of last February, and by May had dropped below the million mark.

These facts are developed in a synopsis of the annual report of Pension Commissioner Warner, covering the operations of his office for the fiscal year ending June 30 last. At the end of the year the number of pensioners had declined to 998,441.

During the year the bureau issued 185,242 pension certificates, of which number over 50,000 were originals.

During the year 43,833 pensioners were dropped from the roll by reason of death, and of this number 30,324 were survivors of the civil war.

On June 30, 1905, the roll contained the names of 647,608 survivors of the civil war, a decrease of over 6,000 from the previous year.

The total amount disbursed for pensions for the fiscal year was $141,142,861, of which amount $4,197,166 was for navy pensions and $3,409,998 was paid to pensioners of the Spanish war and $133,022,170 to the survivors of the civil war, their widows and dependents.

A FRIGHTFUL SMASHUP.

Passenger Trains Collided Near New Castle, Pa.—Two Men Killed, 30 Persons Injured.

New Castle, Pa., Sept. 8.—Two dead and probably 30 injured is the record of a wreck yesterday on the Western New York & Pennsylvania division of the Pennsylvania lines, seven miles above this city, when an excursion train bound from this city to the Stoneboro fair crashed head-on into the regular southbound passenger train.

Both engines were reduced to scrap iron and turned at right angles to the track and the engineer and fireman of the regular train were killed. Nearly all the injured were on the excursion train. The dead:

L. C. Maskray, Mahoningtown, Pa., engineer of regular train.

Fireman Cannon, of Stoneboro.

The excursion train was composed of ten coaches and carried 300 people from New Castle.

Southbound passenger train No. 234, it is said, had the right of way and when a mile and a half south of New Wilmington Junction the excursion train, which was running rapidly in an effort to make the nearest siding north, crashed into it. The impact was terrific. Both engines were jammed together and the coaches were piled in a confused jumble.

Building Collapsed--Two People Killed

New York, Sept. 8.—Two persons were killed, one of them a girl 16 years of age, when a building at Grant and Mott streets collapsed yesterday. The building is said to have been condemned two years ago, but had been permitted to be occupied since. Thomas McGovern, a foreman in the building department, is under arrest in connection with the collapse on a charge of criminal negligence. Nearly a score of persons were injured.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PAINT.

Important Memorandum.—A job complete, done by a good painter, with the best quality of paint, costing say $60.00 ($40.00 labor, $20.00 paint), will last five years. The same paint applied by a dauber ($30.00 labor, $20.00 paint) will last only two years. Thus the "per-year-cost" of the good painter's job is $12.00—the poor painter's, $30.00.

Above all, USE GOOD PAINT!

The oil! linseed oil! Just pure linseed is the "life"—the one great requisite of good paint for which there is no substitute—and the sure way to get the pure, fresh linseed oil is to buy the oil and separately. For every gallon of Kinloch Paint buy one gallon of linseed oil. This makes two gallons of paint, ready for use. You then know that the paint you're putting on your house is alive—"the genuine oil is in it," and paint is not paint unless it contains 50% of really pure oil. We will further explain the virtues of Kinloch Paint if you will call and see us.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

STATE REPUBLICANS ARE DISGUSTED WITH WEAVER.

Colonel Boyle, of Oil City, Voices the General Opinion in Which Philadelphia's Mayor is Held by Those Who View the Battle From Afar!

[Philadelphia Item.]

The general disgust over the actions of Mayor Weaver and his fake reform, free trade rallies, has reached beyond the limits of the city and is rapidly spreading to every section of the State, thereby putting a severe kink in any boom which Weaver may seek to launch for the Governorship.

The up-State citizens are somewhat akin to the residents of Missiouri. They require to be shown, and they declare that this Mayor Weaver has falsied to do. As far as they, viewing the battle from afar, have been able to discern, his campaign for alleged reform has consisted principally of hot air and reckless and unsupported charges.

The general disgust felt throughout the State is well voiced by Colonel P. C. Boyle, editor of the Oil City Derrick, who, in an editorial utterance under the caption "A Frienzied Reformer," says:

A RINGING DENUNCIATION.

Mayor Weaver, of Philadelphia, is to be investigated and his wholesale removals of city officials and sweeping charges of graft and corruption will be probed to the bottom. There are two sides to every story and a suspension of popular judgment is in order until the court of inquiry appointed by the Councils completes its work. IT SEEMS TO BE QUITE THE POPULAR THING TO MAKE CHARGES AGAINST REPUTABLE CITIZENS AND TRUSTED OFFICIALS, BUT THEY CANNOT BE DENIED THE OPPORTUNITY TO DEFEND THEMSELVES. With the Wanamaker press all on his side, it was quite easy for the Mayor to stir up popular prejudices and attempt measures of reform without stopping to see if they were justified or not. HE STARTED IN WITH THE IDEA THAT HIS WILL WAS THE LAW AND THAT HE HELD THE POWER TO CONVICT PUBLIC OFFICIALS UPON PRESUMPTION AND TURN THEM OUT OF OFFICE WITHOUT THE FORMALITIES OF A PUBLIC TRIAL.

With a few exceptions, the great papers of Philadelphia are influenced by Wanamakerism, and it was their hue and cry that urged the Mayor on in his attempts to overthrow the Republican political organization of the Quaker City.

In his mad onslaught upon the city government, he hesitated at nothing, and his astounding actions are without a precedent in the history of municipal government. He slashed right and left, cutting off heads indiscriminately. When he wanted legal advice he went out of the city and State to obtain just the kind he needed to sustain his acts.

Judge Gordon is his confidential adviser, and the Wanamaker press of Philadelphia is ever ready to pat Weaver on the back and commend him for his "frenzied" reforms.

LOCAL ATTORNEYS IGNORED.

Ignoring the best attorneys in Philadelphia, the Mayor rushed off to New York to consult Elihu Root, ex-Secretary of War, AND THUS DRAG THE ROOSEVELT ADMINISTRATION INTO HIS POLITICAL SCHEMES. Mr. Root was induced to express himself very strongly in regard to a purely hypothetical case on charges that had been made without any proof. He promptly abused the Republican Organization of Pennsylvania and duly received his fee. That Mr. Root should have been consulted at all in a matter affecting Pennsylvania politics was a most unfortunate proceeding, but it shows the desperate expedients to which Mr. Weaver resorted in order to sustain his position and secure the quasl support of outside politicians in his onslaughts upon the Republican Organization of this State.

And that Mr. Root expressed himself as he did was in exceeding bad taste. His presumption in meddling in Pennsylvania politics was merely the act of a hired attorney and not the deliberate proceedings of an experienced and astute politician. He fell very easily into the trap laid for him by A FOREIGN-BORN MAYOR, SCARCE TEN YEARS A CITIZEN OF THIS COUNTRY. Mr. Root has since been called into a highly responsible position in Mr. Roosevelt's Cabinet, but it is evident that he still has much to learn. The people of Pennsylvania will resent any meddling in State politics on the part of either the President or any member of his Cabinet. Mr. Roosevelt's friends in Pennsylvanis ARE NOT CONFINED TO A SINGLE FACTION.

THE END IS NEAR.

But Mayor Weaver's display of pyrotechnics is evidently reaching its close and he is now up against another sort of proposition. THE MEN WHOM HE HAS BESMIRCHED ARE ABOUT TO GIVE HIM A TASTE OF HIS OWN MEDICINE AND HE WILL BE CALLED UPON TO MAKE GOOD HIS CHARGES AND EXPLAIN HIS ACTS. While certain city officials may have been guilty of perverting the public funds, they might have been exposed and convicted without attempting to prove that the political machinery of Philadelphia, WHICH PLACED MAYOR WEAVER IN HIS PRESENT POSITION, was honeycombed with fraud and corruption. The fact that 60,000 names on the registry list could not be found at their last year's places of residence PROVES NOTHING. In a city the size of Philadelphia, there are more than 60,000 changes in the directory every year. MAYOR WEAVER HAS ATTEMPTED TOO MUCH. HIS REFORM MOVEMENT IS VASTLY OVERDONE, AND IT IS TIME TO CALL A HALT AND LET THE PEOPLE KNOW WHERE "HE IS AT." The Councils have done an excellent thing in demanding this investigation, and it is now up to the Mayor to show his hand.

A Laxative Cough Syrup.

"A cold or cough nearly always produces constipation—the water all runs to the eyes, nose and throat, instead of passing out of the system through the liver and the kidneys. For the want of moisture the bowels become dry and hard." Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar is the original Laxative Cough Syrup. It meets and corrects the above conditions, by acting as a pleasant cathartic on the bowels—expels all colds from the system and cures all coughs, croup, whooping cough, LaGrippe, bronchitis, etc. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

Fame is all well enough for those who can afford it.

Always Successful.

When indigestion becomes chronic it is dangerous. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will cure indigestion and all troubles resulting therefrom, thus preventing Catarrh of the Stomach. Dr. Newbrough, of League, W. Va., says: "To those suffering from indigestion or sour stomach I would say there is no better remedy than Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have prescribed it for a number of my patients with good success." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

Men need new hearts more than stronger harness.

Like Finding Money.

Finding health is like finding money—so think those who are sick. When you have a cough, cold, sore throat, or chest irritation, better act promptly like W. C. Barber, of Sandy Level, Va. He says: "I had a terrible chest trouble, caused by smoke and coal dust on my lungs; but, after finding no relief in other remedies, I was cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds." Greatest sale of any cough or lung medicine in the world. At L. Taggart's drug store; 50c and $1.00; guaranteed. Trial bottles free.

A petrified creed often goes with a putty conscience.

Are You Engaged.

Engaged people should remember, that after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., says: "For years, my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters; which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." L. Taggart druggist, sells and guarantees them, at 50c a bottle.

Who use molasses demand the best syrup obtainable. Treacle is not molasses although there's much treacle sailing under false colors. The difference between treacle and molasses lies in the fact that treacle comes from sugar in the process of making, while molasses is obtained in the process of refining. You can not get good out of bad, but you can get the best from the best which comes from the sugar.

Republican Party All Right.

[Pittsburg Gazette.]

There is such a vast difference between the Philadelpia views of the political squabble in that city and the cross-eyed view of our Democratic contemporaries in Pittsburgh that we cannot help noting the discrepancy. According to the Pittsburgh view the eruption in Philadelphia has condemned the Republican party there and throughout the state. The Philadelphia Record, leading Democratic newspaper in the state, rabid supporter of Mayor Weaver and antagonist of Republican policies, discusses the Piladelphia situation in these words: The civil revolution has replaced the machine not by non-partisan government, but by a government of Republicans, which is an essentially different thing. Mayor Weaver and the heads of departments and their assistants are all Republicans and Protectionists of the strictest school. But they are honest and public spirited men courageously enforcing the laws for the welfare of the whole community, and that is the sole consideration."

This is so different from the dictum of the Pittsburgh organs that one might think it referred to a different case were it not for the particular mention of names and incidents. The Record is highly partisan in the Philadelphia mix up and cannot be accused of excess friendship to anything under the name republican. Nevertheless its conscience does not permit it to claim for the Democracy the credit for what it terms the "civic revolution." What has been accomplished, it says, has been done "by a government of Republicans."

What has been done in Philadelphia may be more accurately measured in the final results. It will appear in the conclusion, when all the evidence is in, whether the eruption has been wholly for the public good, and, if not, what proportion has been engineered for selfish factional advantage. Until that time it is chiefly a matter for Philadelphians to consider and to quarrel over if nothing less can content them. To the state at large it is of general interest only, and the state at large can afford to suspend judgment until the evidence has been sifted.

In any event the Philadelphia broil has no bearing on the state campaign. There is no connection between the two. The Republican party of Pennsylvania has nominated a ticket for the suffrage of the people on a platform of sound principles. That ticket will be supported by every voter who desires to indorse Republican policies and elect Republican candidates. The ticket is a good one, containing the names of men worthy of public confidence and party support, from first to last. No Democratic support is asked for any part of that ticket and no Democratic support will be accepted as a tender for Republican support of any Democratic candidate.

THE ROSE.

I was a fairy king—
  You were a fay;
Once in a drowsy wood,
  Just as 'twas day,
When all the thrushes sang
  Their souls away.

And I knelt down to you—
  Even I, the king!—
Till your lips lifted me
  Into the Spring—
Into the heart of it.....
  (Did the rose sing?)

Wild rose that blossomed so,
  Ere came the fire—
Sun-fire that withered it,
  (Can the heart tire?)
There in the wakened wood,
  Elf-rose and brier.

Rose of our troth it was,
  And the charm wrought;
When the last petal curled,
  Fell, and was not,
You found another love,
  And I—forgot!

That was in fairyland—
  Dear, do not fret—
(Who can bring back the rose
  With the dew wet?)
'Tis but a tale, you know,
  Idle—and yet.....

CHAPTER XV.

WHEREIN FRONTENAC ASSUMES THE ROLE OF GUARDIAN, AND TWO FAMILIAR FACES REAPPEAR.

Two years passed, and affairs of moment, affecting closely the lives and fortune of all the chief actors in this New World drama, were enacted in Quebec. For a time the new association of fur-traders, whose support La Salle had with difficulty obtained, were content with their venture and looked forward to the day when they could reasonably expect to hear tidings of the expedition's success. Their confidence resisted for a time attacks made by Duchesneau, through the crafty Jacques Le Ber and other agents against the enterprise. But little by little, as no news came and the efforts of the indefatigable intendant were unremitting, their assurance was weakened. La Salle's personality, had he been there, would have been sufficient to hold their allegiance, and Frontenac himself could doubtless have allayed their uneasiness. Affairs of state, however, had compelled him to devote all his time to their disentanglement. His relations with Duchesneau became more and more strained; the council showed itself more unruly; failure in their crops had made the neighboring farmers dissatisfied; their demands for government assistance became more clamorous, while the expected aid from the king had been delayed and was destined to prove to be little better than an empty promise.

Thus the first vague fears for the success of the expedition had become, thanks to the intendant's machinations, a settled feeling of dissatisfaction and unrest; and when a messenger finally arrived with a tale of La Salle's misfortunes and difficulties, the anger of the discontents became open. Hence the seizure of all of the available property of La Salle at this juncture. Frontenac did his utmost to placate these men, and it was only the expected arrival in September (of the year following that in which Tonti and his comrades had set out from Quebec) of the king's ship that kept them from taking further active measures for securing legal redress for their losses. The possibility of an alteration in the plans of the king for his colonies; of material aid from the royal treasury; of a change in officials—all caused a suspension of hostilities on the part of the warring parties and individuals.

Once more did the cliffs and shores re-echo to the roar of cannon, as the long expected messenger from behind the horizon's rim folded its sails and anchored peacefully in the basin before the town. Again were letters read from king and minister exhorting loyal subjects to maintain amicable relations amongst themselves, and to exercise all due economy in the administration of affairs; again did the suitors swarm to the marriage market and carry away the new consignment of "king's girls." In many ways the ship's arrival had proved a disappointment. The amount of money sent had been wofully short of the sum asked for; of the 200 soldiers he had implored the king to dispatch for the proper garrisoning of the various posts, and the overawing of the savages who had given increasing signs of unfriendliness to the French, Frontenac had received but 60.

It was while reviewing mentally the general situation that the governor sat at his desk, the morning after the ship's arrival, in the great room at the Chateau, where he first dined with La Salle and Tonti. A stormy session of the council the evening before and the knowledge of the impending difficulties ahead had not deterred him from a good night's sleep. Nothing seemed to daunt the nerve of steel and heart of oak that the man possessed. Danger and difficulties only made him strive the harder. The heat of battle had been his lot all his life, whether in Louis' Dutch and Italian wars, or in a campaign against the Turk. It was, then, with a feeling of renewed energy and eagerness for the fray that he surveyed the situation. "I will govern in spite of them," he exclaimed as he struck the desk, bestrewn with papers before him, a vigorous blow with his fist. "Them" comprehended all who rendered his task difficult, from the procrastinating king and his minister across the seas, to the painted savage lurking in the forests of the New World.

Thus with a fresh vigor and determination to face his most belligerent enemy boldly, he ordered a servant to admit any seeking audience with him. Imagine his surprise when he beheld before him not the intendant bringing to his attention some fresh point of dispute, or the cringing form and whining voice of Jacques Le Ber as he offered a new complaint from the trading community, but rather the face, pale and severe, of Madame Bourdon, who had again been placed in charge of the feminine portion of the ship's cargo. She was accompanied by a veiled, girlish figure, clad in the plainest garb, who retired to one side of the room upon entering, leaving her conductress to approach the governor alone.

Frontenac, on seeing Madame Bourdon, immediately arose and welcomed her kindly, receiving from her hand a letter, which he opened forthwith and proceeded to read, after glancing at the signature. A look of surprise and pleasure passed over his features as he recognized the handwriting and name of his wife.

Anne de la Grange-Trianon, Comtesse de Frontenac, had in her sixteenth year become enamored of the dashing famous young soldier who had succeeded in reaching the rank of Marechal de Camp by the time he was 26. Though the match was opposed by her father because of her suitor's lack of large means, she was wedded to him one fine day at the little church of Saint Pierre aux Boeufs, which had the privilege of uniting couples without the consent of their parents. A year of happiness followed, then love fled, at least, on her part. She found him wayward and headstrong; he found her possessed of an imperious temper, and a restless craving for excitement. They separated, maintaining for each other a profound respect, although on his part it was really a tenderer feeling. She was always proud of his success, but when he left for the New World she preferred to remain behind. Her influence at court was sufficient to be of inestimable service to her absent husband on more than one occasion. For a time the friend of mademoiselle, she finally retired to the arsenal, the former residence of Sully, with Mlle. d'Outrelaise, a distant cousin of Renee (the two branches of the family were on unfriendly terms), whom she made her life-long companion. There, styled by their admirers "Les Divines," they set up a court for themselves by the aid of their beauty and abundant wit which attracted many, and gave the tone to the best company in Paris.

The letter read as follows:

To Louis de Buade, Comte de Palluau et Frontenac: I commend to your protection and care the young girl who bears this to you. She is Renee d'Outrelaise, a relative of my beloved friend, and protege of mademoiselle, who has kept her in seclusion with her for two years. News of her beauty being noised abroad, one whom you know resolved to see her and having done so became infatuated. Fearing for her charge the same fate that befell Mlle. de la Valliere and others, mademoiselle has found means of sending her out of the country as the only sure way of her escaping him. Hoping to render her position safer as well as humor the child's desire to turn temporarily a religieuse she has asked me to intercede with you in her behalf, believing that in a couple of years she will have become effaced from a certain memory and can then return in safety. I rely upon your discretion and power to care for her. She has chosen the name of Soeur Amelie. Do not let her real name be known. All is well for you here. His majesty, despite your enemies, has confidence in you. My respects to you and all good wishes for your success and prosperity. ANNE DE FRONTENAC.

No words of love were there, yet the governor's eyes lingered with pleasure on the signature. She still was proud to use his name. He glanced at Madame Bourdon as if for further explanation.

"Mademoiselle was committed to my keeping before sailing, with strict orders that she should be placed in your care. She refused to leave her cabin except at night throughout the voyage. She is somewhat paler than when she left France, but otherwise she is well. I have discharged my duty and will leave her future disposition to your excellency." And with a bow Madame Bourdon retired.

Frontenac walked slowly over to the window near which the stranger stood, and approaching her said kindly: "Come, ma chere, it seems that my wife has asked me to aid you, which I shall gladly do. Will you not sit down that we may talk matters over?" And taking her hand, he led her with gentle courtesy to a chair, and drawing his own near, sat down. The young girl thanked him in a low voice, and throwing back her veil revealed her features for the first time to her companion. "Mon Dieu!" he exclaimed, as the freshness of her rich beauty became apparent. "I can well understand the alarm of mademoiselle."

An hour they talked. He strove to learn as much of her history as she cared to reveal to him, and endeavored by the fatherly tone and interest he displayed to reassure her of his kindly thought and wish. He realized her helpless state and saw that she was unhappy, and as he talked he revolved in his own mind several plans for her future care. Then, as the subject perplexed him somewhat, he arose and paced thoughtfully up and down. He could not think seriously of allowing her to be lost in a religious life. It was necessary, therefore, to find some family in which to place her that would be congenial and tend to dissipate her melancholy. Glancing out of a window in his perplexity, he saw the figure of a woman passing the square in front of the Chateau. "The very person," he exclaimed, and calling to his servant, he bade him run and inform Madame Bizard that he wished to speak with her. An arrangement was soon made.

Madame Bizard was rejoiced at being thrown into such intimacy with the daughter of a gentleman. No explanation was given of Renee's presence in Quebec; that she was a ward of the governor was sufficient. The girl herself was glad to reach the refuge of a new feminine friend. Lieut. Bizard was quartered in a house near the Chateau, convenient for Renee to make frequent calls upon her guardian, who soon became very much attached to her. She was to him the closest link to that world of fashion and gayety from which his official position exiled him. It seemed a comfort to her also to talk with him of mademoiselle, her family, and her child-life in Poitou. Even his conversation, which touched mainly on persons whose names she had merely heard, was pleasant to her ears. Shrinking from the admiring glances of those she met, she went out but little, save for a stroll with Madame Bizard at dusk, or a brisk morning walk alone before the sleepy city was awake. Thrown thus upon her own resources in a great measure, she passed most of her time in-doors, playing on her lute, embroidering an altar cloth or reading and re-reading the scanty store of books Frontenac lent her.

Madame Bizard often sat and talked, retailing to her all the gossip and events of the town. She dared not speak ill of the Comte, but her predilection for Duchesneau and his partisans led her to vent her feelings in acrimonious aspersions on all who were allied with the governor. Best of all, Renee liked to question her friend about the strange vast land she had come to; its history and its people; the tales of adventures in its wilds; the rugged life of its pioneers; the martyrdoms of its missionaries. And as she listened, her heart glowed within her and she wished that she too were a man and might set forth to hew a way through the great unknown that civilization might follow; or yet again the hazy, half-formed plan suggested itself to her mind that even a woman's weak hands through her gentle ministration in hours of sickness and plague might win a path to heathen hearts for the glorious truths of her religion.

Madame Bizard had several times touched upon La Salle's exploring expeditions but had spoken of no member of it other than its leader. Him she denounced as a thief, a liar, and a swindler. Renee listened eargerly, not daring to question her companion closely, fearing lest the sound of the beating of her heart would be overheard; and bent her face low over her work or turned away her head that the glow on her cheek might not disclose the fact that her interest in the subject was other than that of a stranger. Finally, one day she essayed to make some inquiry as to the personnel of the party. Madame Bizard, whose fund of local gossip was low at the moment, quickly branched off into a full description of the chief members of the enterprise.

"There was one young man, ma chere," she said, "who deserves to be eaten by the savages. His name is Henri de Tonti, and he occupies a position next to that of the leader. Had he remained in Quebec I should have considered it my duty to warn you of him, for a more dangerous person for a young girl to meet I cannot imagine. He behaved scandalously here, coquetting with all the women of the place. It is a pity; they say he has a wife and child he abandoned in Paris. We women are so weak that it would be small wonder if some of us were to believe the honeyed words spoken by one who, I will admit, is so handsome, gallant, and possessed of so winning a manner."

Renee, pale and agitated, made her needle fly faster as her companion rattled on. She dreaded what the woman would say next, yet longed for her to proceed.

"He will never come back here, I know," continued Madame Bizard, "for he ought to know that my husband would shoot him down the instant he arrived. Yes," she went on, as she saw Renee give a start, "he even tried his wiles on me, the miscreant! Of course, one cannot blame a man for desiring to be friendly, and for seeking the acquaintance of a woman of my position, who, although I repeat it myself, is said to be at least passably good-looking. He should, however, have paid attention to the ordinary proprieties of civilized people, and should not have so outraged my feelings of wifely honor and womanly pride by actually making love to me, and the night before his departure urging me to flee with him to the wilderness."

An exclamation from Renee interrupted her, and she saw that the girl had pricked her finger with her needle and stained the fabric she was working with a drop of blood.

"There is a man," the woman continued, much to Renee's relief, "who has all of his virtues and none of his faults, who came on the same ship with you; I wonder you did not see him. He is called 'le Comte,' and is staying with the intendant. I have met him several times when at the palace and have seen him in the distance while walking. I want you to meet him. M. le Gouverneur will not object to your receiving a friend of the intendant. I have in fact invited him to call, and, mon Dieu!" she cried with a blush of pleasure as she glanced out of the window, "here he is coming to the house this moment." Renee looked in the direction pointed out to her and saw the figure of a young man approaching. He lifted up his face toward the window; the sunlight smote it. Renee uttering a cry of terror fell back in a swoon. She had recognized the Comte de Miron.

CHAPTER XVI.

RELATES THE EVENTS THROUGH WHICH A BIRD IN THE HAND BECAME TWO IN THE BUSH.

Week after week followed with dreams of home, of green fields and trees and brooks, interspersed with glimpses of sad, patient, sympathetic faces of nuns and the rustling of their holy garments, which seemed like the sound of angels' wings, and Renee awakened to a realization that the former were but dreams and the restful assurance that the latter were always near to comfort and protect her. Some spoke of ship fever contracted on the voyage during which two members of the crew had died, notwithstanding the fact that she had been ashore a full month before falling ill. Others shook their heads and whispered something about a strange disease, lately found among the Indians, that seized upon the mind as well as the body. All agreed that it would need every effort to strengthen the weakened frame and renew the brain that seemed to rally most tardily. In reality it was the double blow of the news of her lover's unfaithfulness, and the sight of the man she feared and whom she believed to be dead, coming as it did after the fatigue of her long voyage and close confinement of her stuffy cabin, that proved too great a shock to the nervous system of the young girl.

Every Little Helps.

The Hon. Michael J. Murray of Boston tells an amusing story at the expense of President Charles W. Eliot of Harvard. One day a graduate of the Harvard medical school met the president on the street for the first time since his graduation. While in college he became well acquainted with President Eliot, and the latter readily recalled his name upon the chance meeting.

"I have something to say to you, President Eliot," remarked the graduate. "Yesterday I made a will, and after I had disposed of all my worldly goods I had inserted in the will another clause. By that clause I left my brain to the Harvard medical school."

"Well," was the answer, "I thank you." Then without meaning any sarcasm, the president continued: "Every little helps."—Boston Herald.

Getting It Over with.

"Miss Dasher," said Mr. de Bore, as he rose to go, "may I give myself the pleasure of calling on you again Monday evening?"

Miss Dasher gasped, but recovered herself quickly. "No, Mr de Bore," she said, sweetly "I am very sorry, but I am to join a theatre party on Monday evening."

"Then may I come Tuesday evening?"

"Ah-er-no, I shall be out of town on Tuesday evening."

"Then perhaps you will be at liberty on Wednesday evening."

"Why, really, Mr de Bore. I-no, I have an important engagement on Wednesday."

"Well, then how about Thursday?"

"O, my goodness! Come Monday!"—Cleveland Leader.

Heroically Full.

Two men had dined together, and after dinner had sat too long over their coffee, their liquor, their brandy, and so on. When it came time for them to go home, they were in a very bad way. Helpless, in fact. They leaned on one another, going with linked arms, but each, as a reed to lean on, was rotten. "Finally they fell, and, with a loud splash, they rolled into a full gutter. A police officer appeared and grabbed the upper man by the collar. "No, no. Save my friend. Never mind me. I can swim."—San Antonio Express.

"I wonder if there would be any demand in your town for my goods?" said the drummer to the chairman of the vigilance committee of Red Gulch after they had struck up a conversation on the train.

"Mebbe," answered the chairman. "What might you be sellin'?"

"Hanging-lamps."

"Well, pard, I don't see where you could do any business in the Gulch. We just had the town outfitted with brand-new electric-light poles."—Judge.

Concentrated Goodness.

"Curious about old Grumps. He never turns an applicant for charity away, but he shuts him off as soon as he begins to talk, hands him a coin and tells him to go."

NEW ROUTE TO SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

Through Trains from Chicago.

With the opening of the line across southern Utah and southwest Nevada, known as the San Pedro Route, a new country has been opened, which in area is large enough for a good sized empire, the natural resources of which are practically untouched. This region has until now been without railway facilities, and the laws of trade and transportation are such that rapid development is now assured. The Tonopah and Goldfield mining camps are to be reached by branch lines, and there is a strong possibility that other mineral districts will be discovered and developed as a result of this new enterprise.

The facilities with which Southern California and this newly opened portion of Nevada can be reached in future are indicated by the announcement from the passenger department of the Chicago & North-Western R'y that a daily service of through Pullman tourist sleeping cars via this route is to be inaugurated between Chicago and Los Angeles in a few days, which will doubtless lead to a large influx of people looking for opportunities to establish themselves in this new country, where homes are cheap, work is plentiful, and men of vim and grit are in demand—something unknown in the densely populated cities of the east.

There is some beautiful scenery along the new route, particularly in what is known as Rainbow Canon; and the citrus fruit region of Southern California is reached near San Bernardino, the road leading from that point through Riverside and Pomona, and other towns in one of the greatest orange growing districts in the world.

It is expected that with the opening of the Southern California tourist season this fall, a large amount of travel will be handled via this route, for the management of the new road, fully alive to modern travel requirements, have put in effect a very handsome service of modern vestibule trains, with high class dining car service and other travel comforts, which connect at Salt Lake and Ogden with through service from the East, and give a new and interesting route by which first class tourist travel can reach the sunshine and flowers of this New World Riviera.

Ambiguous.

"I must compliment you on the remarkable lightness of your bread," said the woman customer.

"Thank you," rejoined the baker. "It is my aim to turn out the lightest bread in the city."

"Yes," continued the woman customer, "and if you get it much lighter it will take two of your pound loaves to weigh 16 ounces."—Stray Stories.

Severe Surgery.

The following conversation recently took place in India:

Physician (with his ear to the patient's breast)—There is a curious swelling over the region of your heart, sir, which must be relieved at once.

Patient (anxiously)—That "swelling" is my pocketbook, doctor. Please don't reduce it too much.—Medical Record.

Doctor Brigham Says

MANY PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the diseases of womankind is not because it is a stimulant, not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and reconstructor ever discovered to act directly upon the generative organs, positively curing disease and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures and physicians who have recognized the virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due.

If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience it can be relied upon to effect a cure. The following letter proves it.

Dr. S. C. Brigham, of 4 Brigham Park, Fitchburg, Mass., writes:

"It gives me great pleasure to say that I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound very efficacious, and often prescribe it in my practice for female difficulties.

"My oldest daughter found it very beneficial for uterine trouble some time ago, and my youngest daughter is now taking it for a female weakness, and is surely gaining in health and strength.

"I freely advocate it as a most reliable specific in all diseases to which women are subject, and give it honest endorsement."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhœa, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that bearing-down feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. No living person has had the benefit of a wider experience in treating female ills. She has guided thousands to health. Every suffering woman should ask for and follow her advice if she wants to be strong and well.

SENATOR SULLIVAN

Hon. Timothy D. Sullivan, of New York, Member of Congress from the Eighth New York District and one of the Democratic leaders of New York State, strongly recommends Doan's Kidney Pills.

Senator Sullivan writes:

It is a pleasure to endorse a remedy like Doan's Kidney Pills, having found them of greatest value in eliminating the distress caused by sick kidneys, and in restoring those organs to a condition of health. My experience with your valuable remedy was equally as gratifying as that of several of my friends. Yours truly, (Signed) TIMOTHY D. SULLIVAN.

This Makes Monday Bright and Fair

There is an old saying that man works from Sun to Sun but woman's work is never done. This idea was well enough perhaps, in the year 1714 when it was first made public, but if woman's work is never done now it is generally her own fault.

Take for instance, the matter of washing clothes—there is no longer any reason to dread "wash day" or to call it "blue Monday" unless you persist in scrubbing your clothes on a washboard over a steaming tub of hot, dirty water and follow all the rest of the old fashioned nonsense the same as they used to do the family washing when Noah was a small boy.

Of course if you do your work in that out-of-date kind of way, there won't be any rest for you here and not much comfort in life either, because you will always be busy.

Now, between ourselves, in the matter of washing clothes—what's the use of making a drudge of yourself when with a Majestic Rotary Washing Machine, which costs little and lasts long, you can almost make a pastime of what used to be the darkest day in the week.

FEVER'S AFTER-EFFECTS

Did Not Disappear Until the Blood Was Renewed by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Typhoid fever is sometimes called nervous fever. During the course of the fever the nerves are always profoundly disturbed, and when it is over they are left so sensitive that the patient has to be guarded against all excitement. In the tonic treatment then demanded, regard must be paid not only to building up flesh but also to strengthening the nerves. A remedy that will do both, make sound flesh to repair waste and give new vigor to feeble nerves, is the most convenient and economical. Such a remedy is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

One proof of this is the experience of Mr. Charles Worth, of East Vassalboro, Maine. He says: "I had a severe attack of typhoid fever late in the fall which left me very weak and debilitated. My heart palpitated, my breathing became difficult after the least exertion and there was numbness in both hands. I suffered in that way for fully six months. As I did not grow out of it, did not in fact see the slightest improvement as time passed, I decided to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as I knew of some cures they had effected in cases like mine.

"Almost as soon as I began taking them I could see decided improvement and after keeping on with them for several weeks I was completely well. I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a most valuable remedy, and I am in the habit of recommending them to others afflicted as I was."

When the nerves ache and tremble it means that they are starving. The only way to feed them is through the blood, and the best food is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are absolutely guaranteed to be free from opiates or other harmful drugs. They are sold by all druggists, or may be obtained directly from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

INVENTIVE INGENUITY.

A Pittsburg man has invented a machine that will make and bake 40 pies a minute.

Among the latest inventions patented is a contrivance which, fitted to an ordinary sewing machine, will fan and massage the operator while she is working.

An Italian engineer has invented a successful elevator for raising sunken vessels. It consists of compressed air chambers of canvas and wire, each equal to a lifting capacity of 60 tons, and it is possible to attach as many of these as may be necessary.

Silicon, the most abundant metal in the world, but hitherto little known because of the difficulty of separating it from oxygen, has now been made obtainable in quantities to meet any demand by the electric furnace. It gives to steel valuable electrical properties, and is expected to assume importance in iron alloys.

Greater contrast in photographs is claimed for a new single lens, which causes the picture to stand out in relief as under the two lenses of a stereoscope. The lense is convex-concave, so that the axes of the rays from different parts of the picture meet in the eye, and the focal length should equal that of the camera taking the photograph.

A novel method of getting rid of black smoke and at the same time turning it to use is adopted in some Belgian factories. The smoke is driven by fans into a porous receptacle, over which flows a stream of petroleum or similar liquid. The smoke is thus caught and turned into gas that gives great heat, and can be used for running gas engines.

A poor laboring man in Denmark has made a new invention in life-saving. He impregnates clothes with a substance which will keep a shipwrecked person afloat for several days without losing its property. A coat, a vest, a traveling rug—in fact, any piece of wearing apparel impregnated with the stuff is enough to keep anyone above water. The invention has been successfully demonstrated.

Putting It the Other Way.

STRONGER THAN MEAT.

A Judge's Opinion of Grape-Nuts.

A gentleman who has acquired a judicial turn of mind from experience on the bench out in the Sunflower State, writes a carefully considered opinion as to the value of Grape-Nuts as food. He says:

"For the past 5 years Grape-Nuts has been a prominent feature in our bill of fare.

"The crisp food with the delicious, nutty flavor has become an indispensable necessity in my family's everyday life.

"It has proved to be most healthful and beneficial, and has enabled us to practically abolish pastry and pies from our table, for the children prefer Grape-Nuts and do not crave rich and unwholesome food.

"Grape-Nuts keeps us all in perfect physical condition—as a preventive of disease it is beyond value. I have been particularly impressed by the beneficial effects of Grape-Nuts when used by ladies who are troubled with face blemishes, skin eruptions, etc. It clears up the complexion wonderfully.

"As to its nutritive qualities, my experience is that one small dish of Grape-Nuts is superior to a pound of meat for breakfast, which is an important consideration for anyone. It satisfies the appetite and strengthens the power of resisting fatigue, while its use involves none of the disagreeable consequences that sometimes follow a meat breakfast." There's a reason.

COWS AND THEIR MILK.

Deductions from Experiments as to the Quality of the Milk of Cows.

The matter of quality of the milk of cows has been pretty well settled by tests in this country, and English authority is in agreeement with us, as shown by deductions from their own experiments, as follows:

1. That when a cow is in full milk and full flesh she will give her normal quality of milk for at least a limited time, even though the quality and quantity of food be very deficient.

2. That when in good condition a cow will take off her body whatever is deficient in food, in order to give her normal quality of milk.

3. That an extra supply of nutritious food, at all times increases the quantity of milk, but the percentage of fat is not in any way improved by it; if anything, the tendency is the other way.

4. That an extra supply of nitritious food almost invariably very slightly increases the solids not fat of the milk. That a ration poor in food ingredients has a very slight tendency to reduce the solids not fat in milk, but has little appreciable effect on the fat.

5. That with a poor ration, a cow in full weight will lose carcass weight, while on a rich diet she will gain weight.

6. That although the percentage of fat in a cow's milk may vary daily we at present seem unable to control these variations or to account for them.

7. That for limited periods, up to one month or thereabouts, all ordinary quantities and qualities of food seem to have no material effect on the quality of the milk.

8. That some foods exercise a material effect in raising the melting point of butter.

9. That the aim of all producers of milk, butter or cheese should be to feed what will give quantity, in moderate amount and of a mixed nature, and the produce will be the best that the cow can give.

10. That extra quality must be looked for by improving the breeds, and judicious selection, rather than by any special foods or methods of feeding.

11. That the variations in the percentage of fat in a cow's milk are caused by something, but what that something is we at present do not know, though if we did we might be able to influence the quality.

DRIP FOR GRINDSTONE.

Simple Device Which Will Help When the Work of Grinding the Tools Is Being Done.

Place a tin can above end of grindstone, attached to upper end of a bent iron brace, a, which is 1/8x1 inch by 24 inches long and is fastened by lower end to wood frame by a set bolt. At upper end it is bent as indicated to hold tin can, b, above the grindstone. Make a slit an inch wide into upper end of can, from which it should be suspended upon iron brace. At lower end on front side of tin can, as indicated by c, punch a small hole to allow water to drip out upon stone.—Farm and Home

STACKING STRAW IN YARD.

Convenient Feed-Rack from Which the Stock May Help Themselves as They Want It.

Where one has a large amount of straw to be worked up into manure the cut shows a convenient way to feed it out in the yard. It is simply a small pen six or seven feet square. Set four strong posts into ground and nail two good boards on each side, or better still use 2x6 or 2x8-inch stuff in place of boards. Fill this pen full of straw and let the stock eat what they want from it.—Farm and Home.

A Link That Binds.

The silo is the link that binds our seasons of grass together and makes it possible to keep up the supply of succulence, even though we have severe droughts and short pastures. So well is this known to dairymen, that many have ceased to depend on the grasses and draw the supply of succulent food from the silo, at a saving of dollars and the amount of land necessary to maintain their herds, at the same time making the yield from their herds more uniform.

One Farmer.

A man who says "book farmers can't teach me anything" was told that salt will kill wireworms. So he put a good handful of salt around each tomato plant. The wireworms haven't sent an official announcement, but the tomato plants are dead! Salt will kill the worms if you use enough of it to pickle them, but plants cannot stand the pickle.—Rural New Yorker.

Milk set in shallow vessels is more liable to sour than that in deeper ones.

FARM GATES.

Two of Simple Construction Which Are Durable and Present a Neat Appearance.

There are numerous patterns in farm gates, from the simple slide device on down the line to the more ostentatious patent affairs. We say "on down the line," for the more simple in device and pattern the more easy they are to keep in repair. We find but few farms over our fenced and improved country that cannot show from two to a half dozen different patterns in gates. Two of these styles of gates are shown in our illustration, patterns which we have noted as being in use many years and possessed of good qualities, easily kept in repair, durable as well as neat in appearance. It is frequently convenient to have a gate so located that it may be readily opened in either direction for convenience in passing through with certain classes of farm machinery. Fig. 1 shows such a style of gate. Being hung alike from both gate posts allows it to be opened out or in from either end, a very desirable feature. When closed, this gate rests upon cleats securely nailed or spiked to the posts. It is well made, bolted and braced and never sags until worn out. If danger from being lifted from its bearings by unruly stock is imminent a second cleat may be nailed in the proper position above the bearing cleat and not interfere materially with opening and closing.

Fig. 2 represents a gate which should be in more common use upon farms where slide gates are preferred. While this is a slight improvement over the old pattern slide gate yet its good features are readily recognized from the fact that it can be easily opened and closed over the top of quite a heavy snow, as the sliding bars which are attached as shown in the illustration allow the rear end of the gate to rise gradually. When drawn to a balanced center it is easily thrown over the top of a foot or more of snow. The lower bar is simply attached in order to hold the gate from leaving its bearing while in operation or in case of wind or unruly stock. The cut at a illustrates the style of hinge used in fastening gate upon pulley bearing. This is easily made by a blacksmith from a discarded hay-rope pulley and a few bits of waste iron.

In making up farm gates, says the Ohio Farmer, it is always well to see that the material used is good quality and not liable to decay or warp out of shape. A codat or two of good paint will add greatly to the gate's durability and appearance. The best length for all farm gates where the various machinery now in use is expected to be admitted is 14 feet and small bolts are preferable to nails in making them up.

WOODEN CAUSEWAY.

Where stones suitable for causeway walls are not at hand, a passageway for cattle may be made under a road by using timbers for the sides as shown in the cut. The timbers are spiked or toenailed together to keep them firmly in place. Cross pieces at the bottom hold the sides from pressing together, while the timbers at the top serve the same purpose, says the Farm and Home. Such a wall is much more easily constructed than one made of stone, is a great deal cheaper and of great durability.

Fruit Trees Not Ornamentals.

All trees are divided naturally into two groups, the useful and the ornamental. The useful trees are those that bear fruit. These must be severely trimmed and pruned to keep down the volume of wood so that fruit production may be encouraged. It is useless to attempt to use a fruit tree as an ornamental, with rare exceptions. The amount of pruning required disfigures it, and if such pruning is neglected a small crop of fruit will be the result. Therefore the practice sometimes followed of planting fruit treees on lawns should not be encouraged.

When the Real Work Begins.

Don't think that you have finished up the garden when you have put the seeds into the ground. That is just the getting up steam. Now pull the throttle wide open, keep humping—gardening is about all humping—and don't let the weeds get the start of you. The slower you hump the faster they do.

Best Dairy Cow.

Many dairymen say that the best dairy cow is half Jersey or Holstein, and they all agree that the other half is good feed and care.

THE WAITER WAS CURIOUS.

Poked His Hand Into a Bag of "Crab-Apples" with Disastrous Result.

Four men, two of them carrying a big potato sack between them, walked into the Hotel Vendig cafe, at Twelfth and Market streets, shortly before closing time the other night, and sat down at one of the tables. The bag was carefully deposited in a corner, relates the Philadelphia Press.

A German waiter took the order with one eye on the sack. Finally his curiosity got the better of him.

"Dot's a big bag, ain't it?" he said. "Vot is in him?"

"Apples, Fritz," said one of the men. "Take some home to the children."

The waiter accepted the invitation and plunged his hand into the sack. He brought it out again in a hurry, with a hard-shell crab clinging to one of his fingers.

Two hundred brothers and sisters of the first crab promptly took advantage of the open mouth of the bag to crawl to liberty. They backed out of the sack with a rush and took possession of the cafe, nipping everything in reach. Several seized trouser legs and shoestrings and held fast.

Heroic waiters made a sortie with brooms and swept the crustaceans back into the bag and tied it up securely.

"Say, please," demanded the German waiter, sucking vigorously at his injured finger, "vot kind of abbles do you call dose?"

"Crab-apples," said the four men, in chorus.

HOW TO TELL A STATESMAN

Not Only a Man Who Makes Speeches, But a Man Who Makes Good Ones.

The late Horatio G. Herrick, of Lawrence, for many years high sheriff of Essex county, always took a keen interest in the Lawrence schools, and was for a long time chairman of the school committee. Visiting the Saunders school soon after the death of Garfield, relates the Boston Herald, Sheriff Herrick spoke to the pupils of the life of the late distinguished statesman, and thus asked, genially:

"Now, can any of you tell me what a statesman is?"

A little hand went up, and a little girl replied:

"A statesman is a man who makes speeches."

"Hardly that," answered Mr. Herrick, who loved to tell this story. "For instance, I sometimes make speeches, and yet I am not a statesman."

The little hand again went up, and the answer came, triumphantly:

"I know; a statesman is a man who makes good speeches!"

Sure Cure at Last.

Monticello, Miss., Sept. 4 (Special).—Lawrence County is almost daily in receipt of fresh evidence that a sure cure for all Kidney Troubles has at last been found, and that cure is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Among those who have reason to bless the Great American Kidney Remedy is Mrs. L. E. Baggett, of this place. Mrs. Baggett had dropsy. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.

"I was troubled with my kidneys," Mrs. Baggett says in recommending Dodd's Kidney Pills to her friends, "my urine would hardly pass. The Doctors said I had Dropsy. I have taken Dodd's Kidney Plils as directed, and am now a well woman."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the kidneys. Cured Kidneys strain all the impurities out of the blood. That means pure blood and a sound, energetic body. Dodd's Kidney Pills are the greatest tonic the world has ever known.

A man is likely to get along very well in the world if he can make himself realize there are some people who know as much as he does.—N. Y. Press.

HAVE YOU COWS?

If you have cream to separate a good Cream Separator is the most profitable investment you can possibly make. Delay means daily waste of time, labor and product. DE LAVAL CREAM SEPARATORS save $10.- per cow per year every year of use over all gravity setting systems and $5.- per cow over all imitating separators. They received the Grand Prize or Highest Award at St. Louis.

Buying trashy cash-in-advance separators is penny wise, dollar foolish. Such machines quickly lose their cost instead of saving it.

If you haven't the ready cash DE LAVAL machines may be bought on such liberal terms that they actually pay for themselves.

Mr. Jos Robinson is having a monument erected on his cemetery lot at Emporium. Mr. Bachelder, of Lock Haven, has charge of the work.

Mrs. Wykoff was a Sterling Run caller Tuesday.

Mr. Geo. L. Page and family will leave Cameron on Monday, Sept. 18th, for Chicdgo and points in Colorado, where Mr. Page has relatives. We wish him a safe and pleasant trip.

HUNTLEY.

G. L. Page, of Cameron, spent a few hours with E. S. Randolph on Monday.

Daisy, the daughter of Foreman W. W. Jonnson, is very ill with typhoid fever as is also Mr. William Logue.

Mrs. Augustus Nelson has partially recovered from her illness and is able to be out again.

Miss Mattie Collins, of Emporium was guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Collins Tuesday.

Miss Mariam Barnes and Miss Florence Darrin, of East Emporium, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Smith.

Mr. O. B. Tanner and family, of Mason Hill, spent Sunday with Mrs. Augustus Nelson. On his way back home he stopped and presented the PRESS Correspondent with a box of fine campaign cigars. Many thanks, Mr. Auditor.

J. F. Sullivan has been on the sick list for the past week with fever and nervous prostration caused by overwork. However he resumed duty Sunday night. Mr. Sullivan was ably attended by Dr Corbett and special trained nurse, W. R. Smith.

Alfred Smith has been transfered from the section west of Huntley to Huntley section, where has accepted the position of Assistant Foreman under W. W. Johnson. Miss Teats is caring for his children since the death of his wife.

The rumor that the tower at this place is to be moved to Tunnel Hill is without foundation. Tunnel Hill has many advantages over Huntley but the tower will stay in the same old place.

Supt. H. H. Cloyes and his force of men took advantage of the rise of water in the Creek Tuesday and had the stream filled with logs all day running them to the mill. Unfortunately Mr. Patrick Farrel lost hs pike lever in the deep water and was forced to dive after it. Upon trying to come out of the water his body came in contact with a large log which struck him in the side and fortunately the force of the blow was broken by Mr. Farrel's watch being in his pocket. The watch was crushed but Mr. Farrel escaped with a few painful bruises. He will be able to work again in a few days. Mr. Farrel had his pipe in his mouth through all the excitement and strange to say it remained lighted all the time.

The Huntley Athletic Club will meet Friday night at their rooms; one bout is slated for the evening between E. S. Randolph, of East Emporium, and John F. Sullivan, of Huntley. Owing to the difference in height of the two men Mr. Randolph will box from a raised platform while Sullivan will stand on the floor. Both men are in good trim.

TOGO'S FLAGSHIP GOES TO BOTTOM.

TOKYO, Sept. 12.—The battleship Mikasa, which carried the flag of Admiral Togo through all the great naval fights of the war with Russia, was lost in Sesabo Harbor yesterday, with 500 men. The vessel caught fire at midnight Sunday. The crew and several boatloads of sailors from other ships fought the fire desperately for two hours and a half trying to rescue the officers, who were imprisoned in their quarters by the flames.

At half past two the fire reached the aft magazine, which exploded, blowing a great hole in the port side of the ship and causing her to sink. The dead iuclude about 400 of the officers and crew of the Mikasa, the other 100 being rescuers from other ships of the fleet. The total complement of the vessel is 935, but more than half of the crew were enjoying their first leave of absence since the war began. Admiral Heihachero, the commander-in-chief of the fleet, was ashore at the time of the disaster.

Powder Mill Horror.

FAIRCHANCE. PA., Sept. 9th.—The Rand Powder mills, six miles south of Uniontown, have been entirely wiped out by an explosion. Of the thirty-two men who went to work in the mills nineteen are known to be dead. Of these thirteen have been identified.

Scores of people in the town of Fairchance, within half a mile of the powder mills, were more or less painfully injured.

The shock of the explosion was distinctly felt in Connelisville, twenty miles away, buildings being rocked on their foundations At Uniontown hundreds of panes of glass were broken. In the town of Fairchance there is scarcely a house that did not suffer damage

There were seven explosions in all. Every one of the ten buildings were totally demolished. Not a vestige of them remains. The dismembered parts of the dead were burned in many instances. Identification of many was made by parts of clothing alone. The first three explosions were not as serious as the last four. Then the packing house, pressing room and magazine blew up, followed by two cars of dynamite standing on a nearby railroad siding, which were set off by the concussion from the powder mill explosions.

Inhuman If True.

MR. EDITOR,—

What do you think of the generosity of a father, who, after leaving his two little children to the care of charity for over one year, actually refuses to allow his children 25c worth of bananas and crackers, from the store where he receives his pay of $2.00 per day? Such kindness as this is surely a shame. If he ever rises won't he surely be damned?

BILLY BOUNCE.

Letter to J. S. Hauber.

Emporium, Pa.

Dear Sir: It costs two or three times as much as to put paint on as to buy it. A gallon of poor paint costs as much as a gallon of good, for the work; and a gallon of poor don't go half as far. Poor paint lasts half or a third or a quarter as long as good, and protects wood and iron a half or a third or a quarter as well as good.

Do you buy good paint or poor? You don't know any poor? Why, the market is full of it?

INDIGESTION'S RECORD

"The best remedy I can prescribe for your indigestion, madam, is Green's August Flower. I know of several other physicians who prescribe it regularly."

¶Indigestion is making an awful record as a cause of sudden deaths. It is beating heart-failure in its ghastly harvest.

¶You read in the papers daily of apparently healthy and even robust men being suddenly attacked with acute indigestion after enjoying a hearty meal, and of their dying in many cases before a physician could be called in.

¶This should be a warning to you who suffer with regular or periodical attacks of indigestion. If these unfortunate victims of acute indigestion had taken a small dose of Green's August Flower before or after their meals they would not have fallen a prey to such sudden seizures.

¶August Flower prevents indigestion by creating good digestion. It also regulates the liver, purifies the blood and tones up the entire system in a natural way.
